PERSPECTIVE by Jon Heaton, Tribune editor

When Georgie defines history or reality...hide your first-born.

Our President was in Europe this week, telling folks how lucky they are to be on our side of the world's march toward democracy. Which side is that? Why, the side which allows its head of state to declare war and then, as our selfproclaimed "War President," to ignore all parts of the Constitution and acts of Congress which cramp his dictatorial inclinations.

The same type of democracy which allows the White House to set up a functioning shadow government under its Vice President, specifically to circumvent and override the legal functions of the State Dept., the Joint Chiefs, the Security Council, FBI, and CIA.

The kind of republic in which almost an entire Cabinet including the President is so committed to its untested notions that it refuses to seek a broad spectrum of expert advice on any matter, foreign or domestic.

This government may cut our taxes but seems likely, instead, to require our first-born.

Warner said it: Don't stop fighting in Iraq; some might ask why we started.

On Thursday, Senate Armed Services Chairman John Warner

requiring the President to set a tentative schedule for pulling out of Iraq. HIS RATIONALE: how can we explain to the loved ones of all the dead and maimed, if we admit we erred in our strategy for dealing with Iraq.

We are urged to continue this random, primitive carnage, just to assure the Congress that our President and his cronies did not commit high crimes and misdemeanors when they walked away from Afghanistan and the pursuit of Osama ben Laden in order to invade (for false reasons) an Iraq about which they knew virtually nothing and for which country's invasion and occupation they had no plan nor preparation.

As Gen. Colin Powell is reputed to have said to the Bush Cabinet three and a half years ago, "If you break it [Iraq], you own it." This warning was ignored and so, Iraq became our mess, although welike every other Western power which has dealt with tribal Islamists—are powerless to fix it.

What is done is done. Now, we must learn to build on the past; not wallow in its "if's" and "could have's." Although it may seem necessary, killing is not a solution ... it's just what people do.

If our leaders could keep us on a crude oil diet without sending made his eloquent pitch against | our troops into senseless carnage,

I'm sure they would. But they can't, so they won't.

Hold back the poor, while we give the children of the rich a 10-mile head start

This week, the House of Representatives voted once again to virtually eliminate the federal inheritance tax. There is at least one huge problem with this: IT IS AN-OTHER UNFUNDED TAX CUT, costing our grandchildren over $60 billion a year. Besides, it destroys open markets, locking the nonrich out of the marketplace, and allowing generations of wealthy Americans to pass their "insider" advantage on to their children. Our Congress feeds the rich ... and the rich feed them. And they all get richer, at our expense.

It is common knowledge that 95 percent of those worth over $100 million today started their adult lives with an inheritance of over $5 million. And most of those worth over $1 billion now started with over $100 million. This is why the insiders don't want a level playing field in the marketplace. They talk of freedom, but what they really want is an unfair, unearned advantage.

Americans should want everyone to come to the marketplace with an equal opportunity. They should, but they don't...and politicians know it.
